Licensee Emergency Classification:
X Unusual Event

Subject: WORKER FAINTS IN REACTOR BUILDING

At 7:10 AM, an unusual event was declared when an electrician passed out on the defueling platform in the Reactor Building, while changing light bulbs. The licensee's Emergency Response Team (ERT) immediately made entry to render first aid. The individual's respiratory protection and plastic suit were removed to facilitate first aid procedures. The individual was stabilized by the ERT, regained consciousness and was removed from the Reactor Building. Middletown paramedics and ambulance responded. After the individual was examined and frisked, he was transported to Hershey Medical Center at 7:48 AM. Slight contamination was identified on his forehead. The cause of the individual's loss of consciousness is not known at this time. The Senior Resident Inspector observed the licensee's response from the Command Center.

Media interest has occurred. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been informed.
